The responsibilities of the Board of Directors include:

- a) To select the Editor of the CJC;
- b) To set policy for the CJC;
- c) To fulfill management responsibilities, including all fiscal matters in a manner consistent with standard accounting and auditing practices;
- d) To collaborate with the Editor in the matter of solicitation of advertising for the CJC.

THE EDITOR

The Canadian Journal of Communication
CALL FOR APPLICATIONS AND NOMINATIONS

A joint committee of the Canadian Communication Association, and the Board of Directors of the Canadian Journal of Communication, is seeking an Editor for the Journal, for a three-year term, (renewable), effective July 1st, 1987.

It is expected that the person selected for this responsibility will possess an appropriate research record, will be cognizant of and sensitive to, the needs of a developing discipline of Communication Studies in Canada, and will offer evidence of sound publishing-editing knowledge.

The Committee is prepared to receive applications and nominations to April 30th, 1987.

Submissions should be accompanied by a current curriculum vita, and, (in the case of nominations), by a statement of willingness to serve signed by the nominee.

Correspondence in this matter should be addressed to:

CCA-CJC Editor Selection Committee,
c/o Dr. Donald Theall,
President and Vice-Chancellor,
Trent University,
Peterborough, Ontario
K9J 7B8

The following is a listing of the responsibilities of the Editor of the Canadian Journal of Communication.

- a) To oversee and manage the day-to-day operations of the CJC within the guidelines adopted by the Board of Directors;
- b) In the process, the editor will receive submitted manuscripts, supervise the review process, and make decisions about their publication within the guidelines adopted by the Editorial Board;
- c) To collaborate, as needed, with the Board of Directors, concerning the solicitation of advertising for the CJC;
- d) To make necessary overtures for promotion of the CJC with appropriate associations and publications which are consistent with the content directions of the CJC;
- e) To collaborate with the Board of Directors; as needed, concerning subscription lists.
- f) To recommend to the Board of Directors an appropriate selection of colleagues who would function as an Editorial Board of CJC. These colleagues would be selected by the Editor, for consideration by the Board, on the basis of the national communications constituency, and of the editorial requirements of the Journal.
